

Personal Well-Being Assessment

Completing this self-assessment is like taking a quick snapshot of your life as it is right now. The awareness that is revealed allows for immediate refocus, new choices, and desired change to occur.

Rate your personal well-being in all areas of your life. Rate each area 1-5, 1 being “not even close to what I’d like it to be” and 5 being “exactly as I like it”. Feel free to define each statement in any way you’d like in order to help you think more specifically and make the question relate to you personally.
